The European Federation of Chemical Transport (ECTA) is once again organising its general assembly and annual conference on 16 November in Düsseldorf. An event that is still valid for the rich exchanges between logistics providers (ECTA members) and shippers (Cefic members).

Unsurprisingly, the main theme of the conference will be the energy transition, but this time considered more from the perspective of shippers, with an analysis of the impact this will have on carriers and logistics providers. Sustainable transport solutions will of course also be on the agenda.
